Kylie

Hello and Thank You!

I hope to put your mind at ease during this difficult journey.

I have so much love to give and I am excited to continue to build my family through adoption. I have always said that I was going to start my family through adoption. I grew up in the Midwest and had an amazing childhood and upbringing, part of which included being brought up with my sister, who is adopted from South Korea. My parents were always very transparent with us about their adoption journey and how it changed all of our lives for the better. I couldn't agree more.

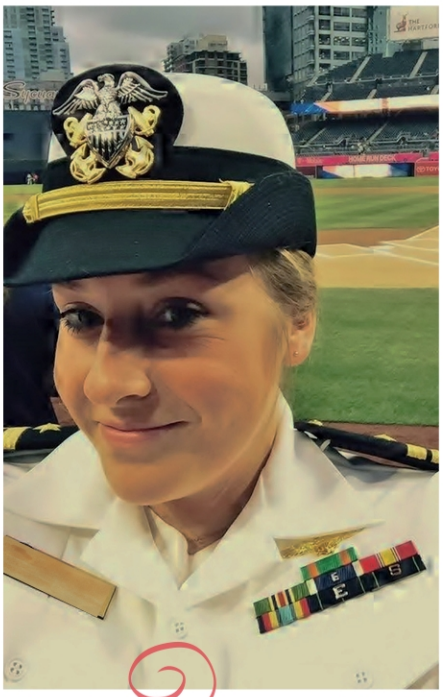
Adopting my son, Anderson, was the best blessing I could have asked for. He has helped not only solidify the idea that I am meant to be a mother, but also, that adoption is just such a gift and is the right path for my family.

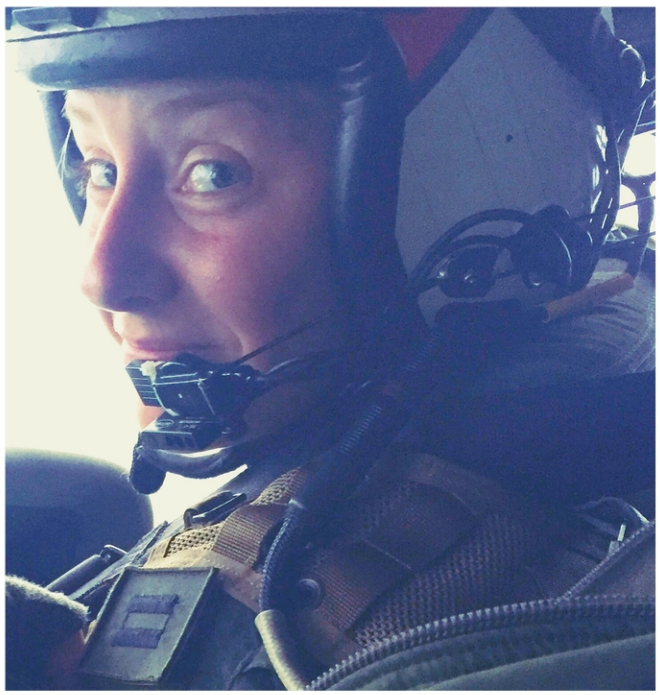
GET TO Know Me

"I grew up with no defined limits of what a family can be, what makes a family strong or how that family is created.

I know that the most important thing in life is a strong support system, foundation of love and a family where the parent or parents are ready, stable and eager to have their life and schedule be built around their children.

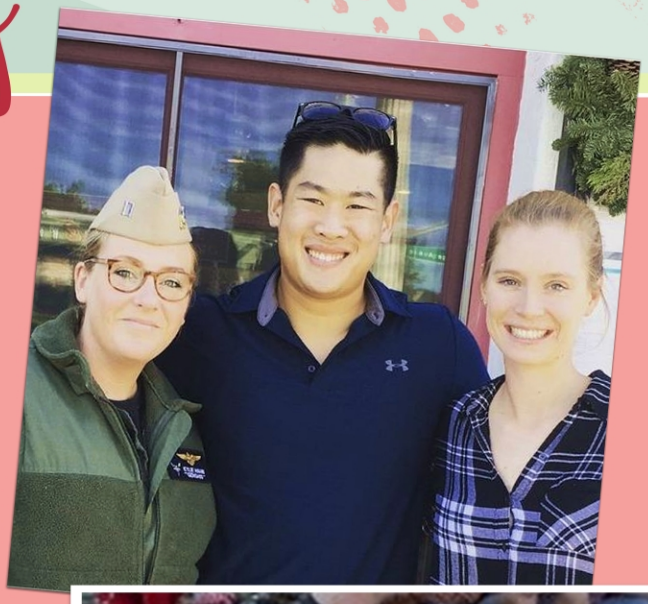
Since having my son, my primary focus is on being a mom, but also on being a stable and consistent provider. I am so thankful for my unmatched support system and my career for allowing me to maintain those priorities. It is a dream come true and my family, friends and overall support system are as eager as I am to welcome a new member to our family.





I am currently a helicopter pilot in the United States Navy and have served for over eight years. I have been able to build a fantastic life and have enjoyed my career. I am currently an instructor and have a consistent working schedule with flexibility that has been able to accommodate my needs as a mother. I am always home for sick days, doctor's appointments, long days of teething, etc. My job is one that I love and that I am able to do well and advance in, yet, it has also provided me the balance that I need and that my family needs.

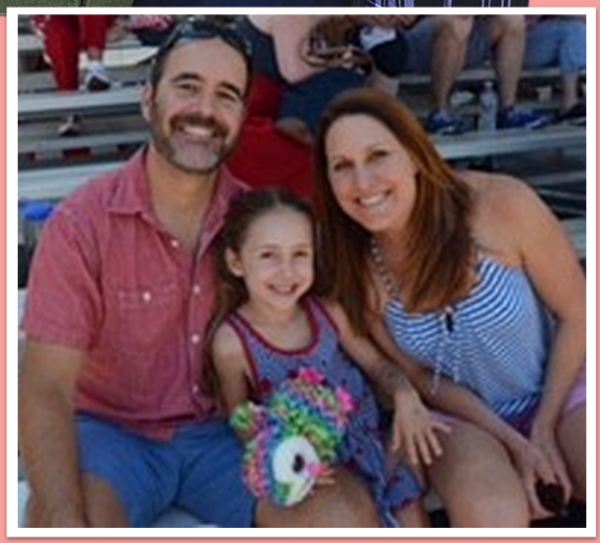
WHAT OTHERS ARE Saying



"We met Kylie 5 years ago and she became one of our best and most trusted friends. Kylie is a highly dedicated and caring mother. Anderson is her entire world and she makes sure he has her full attention and priority. Anderson is always smiling and happy because of the great home he lives in.

Kylie likes to have fun and enjoy life with her friends and family, but also knows when to be serious and take charge of a situation. We love spending time with her and have grown extremely close friends over the years. Her enthusiasm and desire to adopt a child have always been genuine and moving. She has proven that through the adoption of Anderson and is ecstatic at the thought of adding another child to her growing family.

- Alex & Lizzie



She is quite obviously a very loving and nuturing mother. - Kayla

"Kylie sincerely loves children and is a natural caregiver. Over the years that Kylie has babysat for us, she has built a strong relationship with our child and us. Her relationship with Anderson is unparalleled. She is a calm, rational and motivated person. We have so much trust in Kylie as a mother that if we didn't have family nearby, we would strongly consider her as our daughter's guardian should anything happen to us.

My Sister- Can't Wait to be an Aunt Again!

I grew up in one of the best and most loving households I can imagine. My parents had a difficult time having biological children and adopted my sister two years before I was born. Partially because of their positive experience, they have always encouraged and supported my adoption plan since the beginning.

MY PARENTS ARE STILL MY ROCKS AND HAVE TOTALLY EMBRACED BEING GRANDPARENTS. Their pride and job are undeniable!

> "Kylie aims to provide the best for her family in time, attention, experiences and understanding. She is an excellent mother ready to add to her family.
> - Kylie's Mom

My dad is a strong and stable provider who has taught me many things, one of which is how to be financially independent. He is always the voice of reason and is my biggest supporter. My mom has always had a passion for raising and teaching children, as a special needs teacher, and has one of the best hearts of anyone I know. She's very dedicated and knowledgeable and and has been a fantastic and involved grandmother to Anderson.

My sister moved to San Diego when Anderson was only four months old because she wanted to be closer to us and wanted to have a strong relationship as an Aunt. It makes my heart so happy to see how she and her fiancée love spending time with us and with him. I look forward to the day when we have another child to share this love we have to give and also enjoy this life with us!

How I Spend My FREE TIME

- Anything and everything outside! We love to go to the beach, parks, walk on the bike trails, go on hikes, to the pool and we love that we have a play area in the back yard. Plenty of options!

- We love to take short trips to see some of our favorite people and to stop and see all of the sights along the way. Anderson also loves to dance in the car and needs a buddy back there!

- Sporting events like baseball, football and hockey, local attractions like the zoo, aquarium, etc. and special events like Monster Jam and Disney on Ice, to name a few.

Big Bear Skiing with Friends

"I have a fantastic group of friends, all in different walks of life, but all who respect and know my plans for continuing to build my family. Several of my friends and close family have young children themselves, and we have a blast together planning play dates and events to go to with the kiddos.

Welcome Home

My son and I just moved to the San Diego suburb of El Cajon. We moved so we would have more space to grow our family and to have more space to host as our family and friends visit.

We have a three bedroom home with an enclosed backyard, a playroom and quick access to parks and bike path for our walks each day!

My Promise
TO YOU

I will provide my children with a CONSISTENT, STABLE & LOVING environment in which to grow in. I will always share my passion and drive for life and motherhood with them. I will surround them with the love and support of family and friends. Most importantly, they will be LOVED beyond measure.

ANDERSON

I started my adoption journey in an effort to become a mother in 2015. I was lucky enough to have Anderson join my family in July of 2018. He is the best blessing I could have asked for. He has helped not only cement the idea that I am truly meant to be a mother, but also that adoption is just such a blessing, and is the right path for me.

Adoption has been such a gift for Anderson, his birth parents, and for me. I love being able to share photos of Anderson growing and meeting his milestones with his birth parents and we are all so proud of him. We are excited to welcome a sibling and can't wait to see him as a big brother!

I hope this letter demonstrates to you that although I do not present the idea of the typical, nuclear family, I have all of the skills and capabilities of any other family. I know I can provide a healthy and loving home for another child and I can hardly wait to do so! If you would like to get to know me better, please contact Everlasting Adoptions at 310-844-1996.
