Hello,

We are Annie and Neel. Thank you for considering us as parents for your baby. We so admire you for your brave decision in putting your child's best interest above your own.

We have been together for 10 years and married for 4 years. After a few years of unsuccessful fertility treatments, we realized that adoption is our path to grow our family. We share a strong love for our close-knit families and supportive friends. And now, we are excited and ready to extend that same love and joy to our child.

Here's a little background info on us — how we met, what we do, where we live, what we enjoy and what we hope to offer and provide for our child.

When we first met, it was through a website called Tennisopolis. On our first date, we discovered we shared some similarities: playing tennis; studying abroad in college; and spending probably too much time watching college basketball. We also discovered that we are both the younger sibling in a set of twins. What a coincidence!

Neel works as a broker for semiconductors, and Annie manages and markets to clients for a professional training services company. The best part about our jobs is we leave our jobs at work and our home lives are devoted to what's important to us personally. We live in Brooklyn, NY, and absolutely love the area! Most of our friends and some family members live within a five-mile radius. Our neighborhood is filled with families, young professionals and long-time New Yorkers. It's a great mix of cultures and diversity. And, there are numerous parks and playgrounds in the area that cater to the growing number of families moving into the neighborhood. We are enthusiastic about bringing up our child in this community that embraces diversity, openness and creativity.

We both come from loving families who cannot wait to meet our new child. Although they try not to badger us, they often ask us “How's the adoption coming along?” Everyone is eager to welcome a new little person to the extended family. Annie's parents live in Maryland, and her four sisters live in Maryland, New York and Connecticut-all east coast folks. We call her family the United Nations. Why? Because all of their significant others are culturally diverse ranging from Chinese, Scottish, English, Cuban, and Indian (that's Neel). Neel's parents live in Minneapolis close to his twin brother, who has a family of four young kids. His sister is close by in Queens. Family is truly important to us, and we make time for get togethers and constant communication with one another.

When we are not working, we love to travel, hike, play tennis, watch movies, visit museums, exercise at the gym and spend time with family and friends. Neel is excited to share his other interests such as music, film, golf and soccer with our child. Annie is looking forward to teaching our child to cook, appreciate art, get captivated by theater shows, and to simply have fun.

Our hope for our child is to provide happiness, love, joy, security, warmth and some fun into his or her life. We would like to maintain open communication with you to the degree that you are comfortable so that our child can have a sense of stability by knowing his or her background.

We are thankful for you and for your taking the time during this challenging time in your life to learn more about us. Please feel free to call or text us at 718-431-4394 or email us at annieandneeladopt@gmail.com. We look forward to speaking with you.

Warmly,
Annie and Neel

Selina (oldest sister)

Neel's parents, uncle and aunt traveling in India. We plan to take our child on family trips to explore other cultures.

Dinner with Neel's family at lake house. Neel's niece and nephew love to get silly and can't wait to get silly with our child / their new cousin.

Fourth of July with Annie's family at Rehoboth Beach, DE. As you can see, we have lots of family members here who are happy to include a new little one.

ACTIVITIES WE ENJOY

We love bowling, traveling, hiking, zip lining...

visiting museums & exotic zoos and fishing. These are just a few of the activities we enjoy!

We also enjoy some quiet time playing the guitar...

and some stiff competition on the beach!
Our love for nature, traveling, culture and the arts would be even more special to share with our child.

Bottom picture L to R: Hiking in Lake George, NY; Neel and his co-ed soccer league. He would make a great soccer coach for our child.

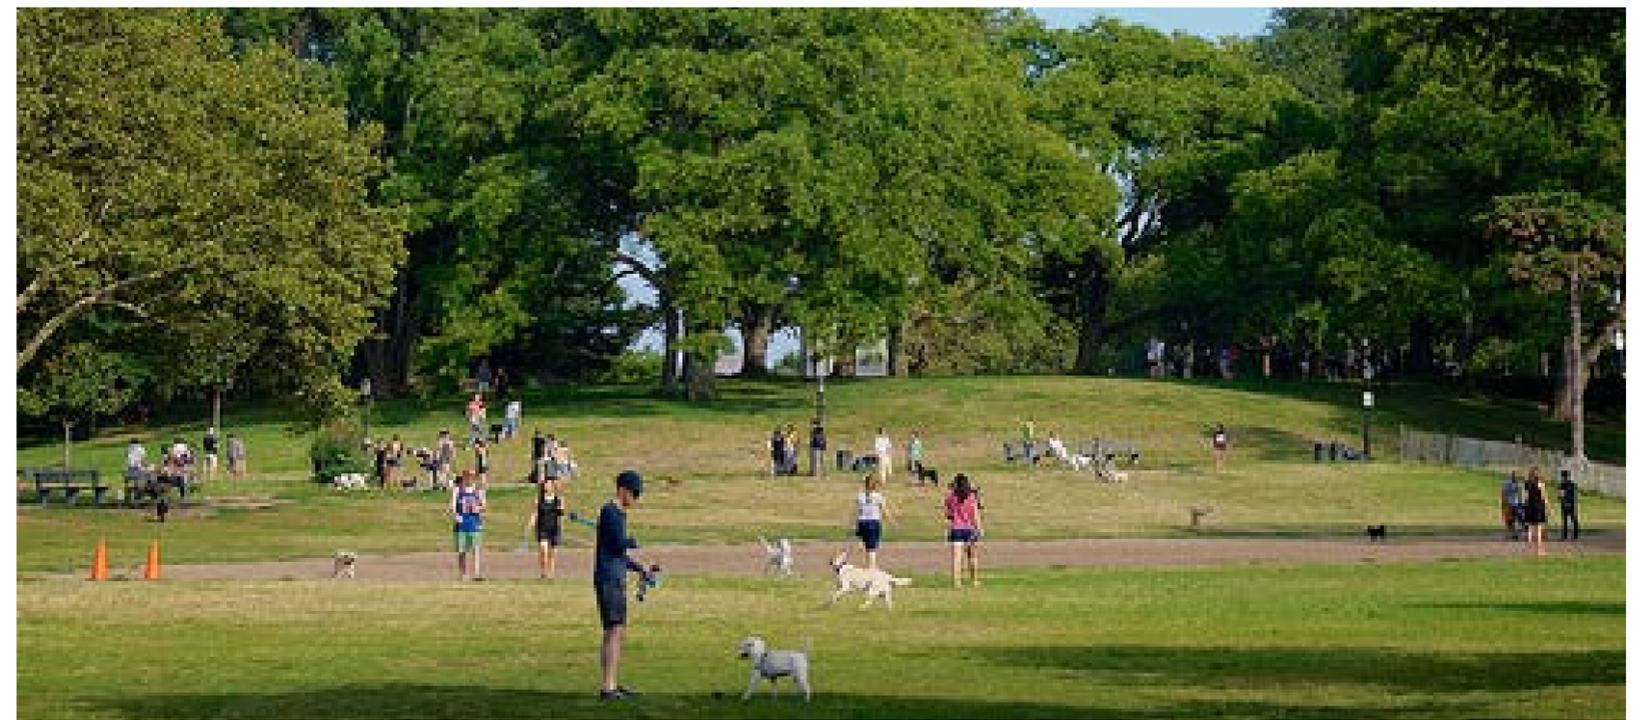

WHERE WE LIVE

New York City Skyline - View from Brooklyn

Our neighborhood is filled with arts and culture.
Clockwise: Barclays Ctr., Brooklyn Academy of Music (BAM) & Mark Morris Dance Ctr.
We're excited to sign up our child for BAM Kids events!

Fort Greene Park is only a 10-minute walk from our place.
We love tennis and can teach our child how to play too.

A brand new waterfront park, Domino Park, is only a 10-minute drive away!
And, we can already imagine our child running around this cool sprinkler!

Thanks for taking the time to learn about us.
