Thanks for learning more about us, we hope to speak with you soon!

A Love Story

It began in a surprising way – a blind date set up by Tara's sister and Nick's dad. They saw the spark between us... Here we are 12 years later, stronger than ever. We are very lucky.

Our path hasn't always been easy. We faced infertility and loss over the past 5 years, but our love has only grown stronger.

Now, we're ready to welcome a little one into our lives through adoption.

TARA

She is a joy-bringer, always finding ways to make us smile.

Her passion for life is contagious, and her optimism is like a ray of sunshine on even on tough days.

The Heart of Our Home

She is a communications manager by day, but can also bake up a storm! She creates artsy masterpieces and loves to laugh at silly things. She's my favorite person in the whole world and has a heart of gold.

Tara's ready to share her creativity, love, and unwavering support with a child.

NICK

Nick is a Public Safety Dispatcher (answers and responds to 911 calls). He loves this job because he helps people in need.

Nick is a loving, kind man who always helps his loved ones. He protects his family and makes people feel safe.

My Best Friend

Nick's gentle heart is as big as the sky. His caring nature and loyalty make him an incredible partner and will make him a great Dad! He makes me so proud to be his wife.

Nick's love for adventure and sports will encourage a child to explore the world with excitement. He will protect and love a child with all his might.

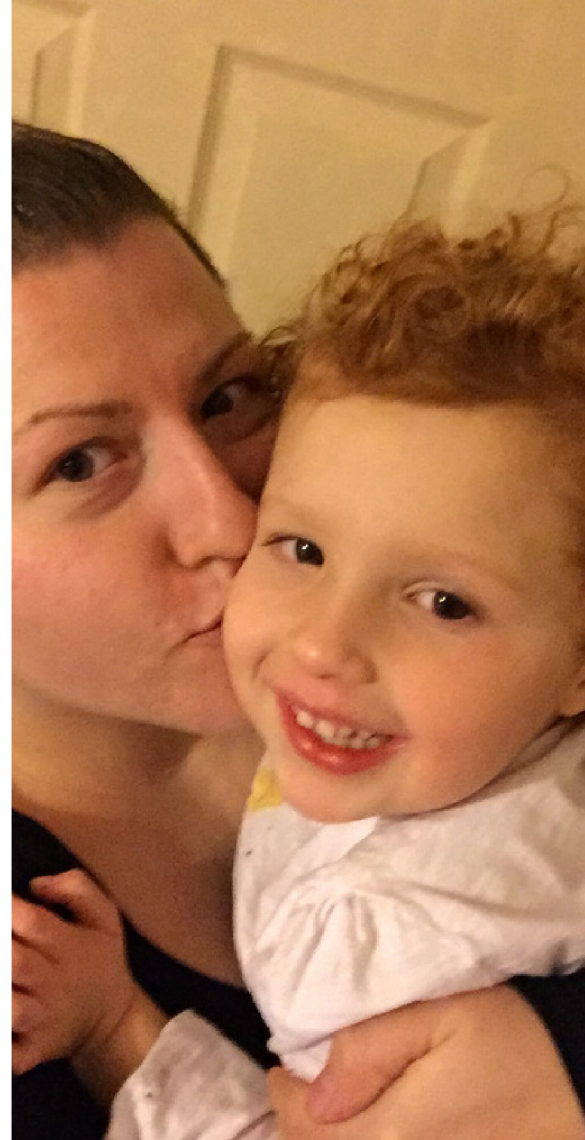

Travel the world!

Exploring the world is a cherished part of our lives. We've traveled from beaches to South Africa, collecting memories and creating stories.

We believe in the power of adventure to shape a child's view of the world and fill their life with experiences.

family

Our nieces and nephews hold a special place in our hearts. They fill our lives with laughter and remind us of the joys of childhood. We cherish every moment spent with them: from board game nights, playing catch or simple trips to the park.

Family means everything to us. We have such supportive parents and siblings. Plus our nieces, nephews, and godchildren - all who can't wait to welcome a new family member. From holiday traditions to big family trips, all our gatherings are full of laughter, love, and fun.

home

Our home is where LOVE thrives. Our cozy apartment near parks and a river is the perfect place to build memories. Our community is vibrant, and our neighbors are like extended family. The schools are rated as some of the best in the area. Plus there are lots of parks, activities and places for kids to grow and have fun!

We're now looking for a new home to have more space for a growing family.

WAY TO GO NICK!!

Nick is a man of his word!

Deciding to become a healthier version of himself in order to be an even more awesome dad. Nick lost nearly 100 pounds.

He works out and eats healthy because he wants to make sure as a father he sets the right example. That hard work and dedication will help you achieve your goals.

Our family is so proud of Nick for all his hard work!

Hello,

I wanted to write you a personal note. I have struggled with pregnancy. I felt lots of emotions and pain.

We tried for many years to get pregnant, it was very disappointing to accept that I could not get pregnant. We tried IVF and many other options but sadly nothing worked.

It was very sad to accept... but I am strong and dedicated myself to coming out stronger than before.

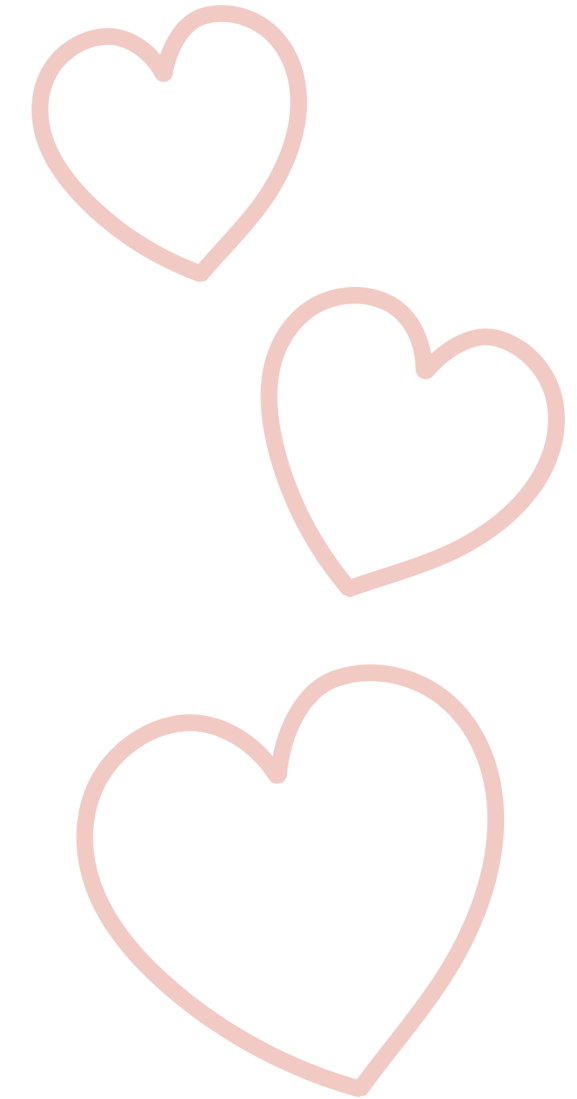

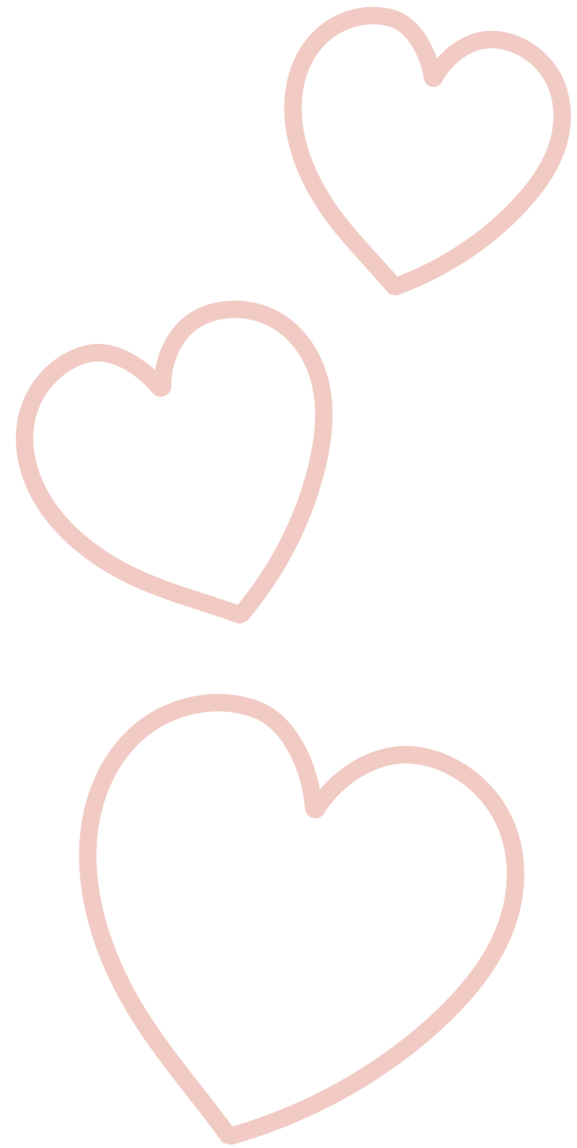

We dream of being parents, of guiding a child through life's ups and downs. Our journey hasn't been easy, but it's led us to this moment where we're excited to embrace the joys and challenges of parenthood through adoption.

With open hearts, we're ready to love, teach, and nurture a child.

I look forward to talking with you all about my pregnancy journey.

-Tara

Our promise to you is to create a loving, open, and supportive environment for the baby. We'll raise them with a strong foundation of respect, kindness, and faith. Our upbringing has taught us valuable lessons that we want to pass on to our child.

Thank you!
