In adoption, a child is not
GIVEN UP.

A birth mother GIVES life,
a child a family, unconditional love.

She GIVES a part of her heart that will never feel whole.

She GIVES another mother a part of her heart that was always missing.

An adoptive mother GIVES a life and family to this child.

She GIVES unconditional love.

She GIVES a part of her heart to another mother.

Our Love Story

We met and started dating in 2008. Our love story was a whirlwind. Quickly into our relationship Russ's work transferred him. Randee had to make a choice to go with him or we would try to make long distance work. We decided to take a shot at love and Randee moved three hours away from all she had ever known. After ten years she still considers it one of the best decisions she has ever made. On Valentine's day 2015, in the middle of a blizzard and in front of all our friends and family we vowed to love each other forever.

Randee (In Russ's words)

Randee has been a blessing in my life. I knew shortly after we met that I was going to marry her.

Randee is the most selfless, compassionate and giving person I have ever met. She would give you the shirt off her back, her last dollar if it would help you. She will do anything for anybody. She will drop what she is doing and do whatever is needed for anyone at any time. She has a heart of gold.

Randee is going to make a great mom. Her sacrifices that she makes for others will also translate into her becoming the mother I know she is capable of being. She treats our nieces and nephews and cats like they are her kids Randee has been with me in my darkest day when my mom suddenly passed away and she brought light to that day. She is the rock of our marriage. She keeps me grounded and makes me feel like I am floating all the time. My heart still beats like it is ready to explode when I am around her and our kids will have the same love for her as she will be as great a mom as she is a wife. She does the little things to keep me smiling from ear to ear and inspires me to be the best me everyday. God has blessed me with an amazing wife.

Russ (In Randee's words)

Russ is the most caring man. He loves deeply and with his entire heart. He is very passionate about anything he does. I believe he will embrace fatherhood the same way. He is strong when I need him to be and he is a goof ball when I need a smile. I think he maybe the funniest person I know.

He works very hard so that myself and his future family want for nothing. He loves nerdy movies and has turned this girly girl into a super hero movie buff. Russ is very dedicated and dives in with both feet.

He has an amazing relationship with his family. He gets a lot of his traits from his mom. She was by far one of the most incredible human beings I have ever met. We lost her in 2010 but I know she is watching over our journey. Russ is also very close with our nieces and nephews. They bring such joy to his/our lives. He could banter with our niece Astrid for hours. He has one brother but several cousins who are more like siblings. I admire the relationship he shares with his family. He also has a fantastic relationship with my family. He embraced them from day one. He has been Uncle Rusty to my nieces and nephews their whole lives. They love him a great deal. He treats my brothers like they are his own.

I am beyond blessed to have this man as the father of our future children. I know all the love and dedication he has to offer our them.
